INTRODUCTION

Hi, I'm Neha Phatak Rakshas

I have done my engineering in Electronics and Telecommunications from Pune University and M.Tech in Industrial Engineering and Operations Research from IIT Bombay. I have a vast experience from having worked with many corporate companies over the years and it is what drove me to work on my position of Graphology and Teaching.

I'm a certified Graphologist, Handwriting Analyst and Graphotherapist in Mumbai. Since 2002 I have counselled many people overcome their problems and succeed in life.

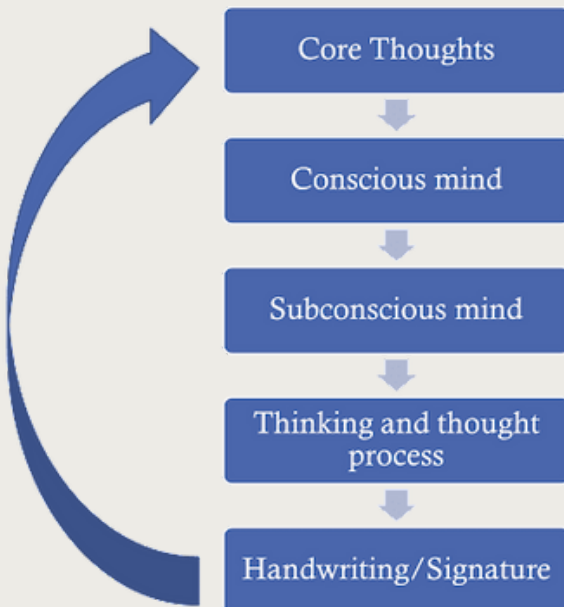

My motto is keeping it simple and providing easy solutions to my students and clients.

My aim is to provide cost effective and easy Graphology services to my clients which can help bring positive changes in their lives. I also love teaching graphology because it empowers my students to vastly improve their own and others' life at a personal and professional level. It leads to the betterment of their lives at a whole new level.

What is Graphology?

Graphology is the assessment, understanding and identification of personality traits and characteristics of a person from the handwriting and signature. The handwriting and signature show the distinct impression of the person's core thoughts, conscious mind, subconscious mind, thinking and thought process as well. That is how one can completely understand a person's nature and personality from the handwriting and signature. Anyone who is 9 years or above in age can get their analysis done.

How does Graphology Work?

Writing is a subconscious activity because most of us have learnt it at a very young age. The conscious mind is also at work while writing because one has to think about what to write. Hence both the subconscious mind and the conscious mind are used during the process of writing. Every letter, pattern and formation in the handwriting and signature represents different areas in a person's life such as finances, relationships, health, career, confidence levels etc. If something is right or wrong in those particular areas of that person's life, then it will be reflected in the handwriting and signature accordingly. A person's core thoughts result into a set of repetitive actions (good or bad) which result into habits which get developed into that person's traits which are seen in the handwriting and signature accordingly. The following image will show you clearly as to how Graphology works:

Oh my god! The consultation was amazing. Neha maam told everything so accurately. She even helped me recognise subconscious patterns on the basis of which we act upon. This session was very intriguing. The best part is that to grow personally, mentally, financially there are ways to develop yourself through graphology. I am soo looking forward to take graphology sessions.

I recently took the complete graphology package from Neha ma'am from Inside Ink Graphology Solutions. She did a detailed analysis of my personality based on my handwriting, it was very accurate and certain things were eye opening to me. There were many traits written in my report which only I knew, my close members also didn't know. But through my handwriting Neha ma'am could analyse and also gave remedies for same. She was kind enough to guide me for my kids signature as well. I am able to see some positive results in my life. This looks like a life changing therapy and I am very happy I got connected to Neha ma'am

I would like to give feedback that analysis was bang on. Whatever she mentioned was correct. She mentioned exact things that I was going through without me telling anything. The way in which she gave the analysis was so on detail which was unlike others. She is so calm and understanding. She listens patiently and answers all queries. I am glad I came across her.

Why You Need a Graphologist?

Graphology will help a person in understanding and improving oneself and others. It will help the person in understanding and removing the negative repetitive patterns occurring in life which are stopping that person from being truly happy and successful. It helps a person in understanding and improving the personal and professional relations. It helps one to grow and succeed in the career/business. One can understand and increase the compatibility between oneself and a partner for personal and professional relations. With the help of Graphology, a person's health can improve, the mind and body can become stronger, self-doubt and insecurities will reduce, peace and happiness from within will increase, financial/money earnings and savings will visibly increase and a person will be able to overcome all the past events successfully. Basically a person's full personality development can take place with the help of Graphology.
